

Blog Entries "Who's the Boss in the Digital Age?"

About this Blog

This blog tells how we planned the unit "Who's the Boss?" for 2006. This time there will be a large ICT component in the unit. In it you will see the process that teachers go through when planning a unit of work.

The Early Planning June 2006

At the end of term 2, 2006, Mark [ICT Coordinator] & Steve [5/6 Coordinator] discussed how to incorporate ICT into the unit "Who's the Boss?", which was to be studied by grade 5 & 6 students at Williamstown PS in the following term. Mark suggested that using "iLife '06" would be a great way to do this!!

Wednesday, 21 June 2006 Podcasting Seminar

At the end of term 2, 2006, Mark [ICT Coordinator] & Steve [5/6 Coordinator] discussed how to incorporate ICT into the unit "Who's the Boss?" which was to be studied by grade 5 & 6 students at Williamstown PS in the following term. Mark suggested that using iLife '06 would be a great way to do this!!

Tuesday, 27 June 2006 Holiday Planning Session

Steve and Mark go into school one very cold June day [no heaters are turned on] and plan out a presentation for the 5/6 team, showing how this unit will enhance the teaching of ICT and Civics and Citizenship.

Saturday, 1 July 2006 Selling the idea/1

On the way home from the footy Mark runs into Shayne and Billy. After discussing Melbourne's 38 point win over Port Adelaide on the train home, Mark tells them about "Who's the Boss in the Digital Age". Fortunately, he gets off at Footscray before they fall asleep.....

Sunday, 2 July 2006 New Technologies in School Party Website goes online

See it at http://homepage.mac.com/mark_rich/

Monday, 3 July 2006
Selling the idea/2

Today it's the planning day for the 5/6 teachers. All the work so far will be presented to them!! Hope they like it [although, probably not the 32 page PowerPoint!!]. If so then we start teaching it on Wednesday.